COURSE NOTES
1. Contacter le professeur :
   - En personne pendant les heures du bureau
   - Par courriel, il faudra :
     utiliser uniquement le courriel de l’université;
     préciser clairement l’identifiant du cours et l’objet de votre message et prévoir 24 heures pour recevoir une réponse pendant les jours ouvrables (de lundi à vendredi).
2. Tous les travaux devront être remis en format précisé dans les consignes, les travaux envoyés au professeur par courriel ne seront pas acceptés. Sauf cas exceptionnel où l’étudiant(e) aura prévenu le professeur à l’avance et obtenu son accord explicite, les travaux remis en retard ne seront pas acceptés et recevront la note « F ».
3. Avec justification d’une absence d’un contrôle, l’étudiant(e) pourra reporter le pourcentage décrit élément sur le travail final.
4. Aucun document n’est autorisé pendant les épreuves en classe.
5. Note de participation :
   Une note passable pour la participation présuppose une lecture soignée du texte avant la classe, l’apprentissage collectif des concepts littéraires et leur application réfléchie dans les discussions en classe, sur D2L, et dans les devoirs écrits.
   On vous demandera régulièrement de présenter des pages, des aspects particuliers de nos lectures et de l’esthétique de leurs auteurs; votre préparation pour ces mini-exposés comptera dans votre note de participation, ainsi que votre écoute et votre engagement avec les mini-exposés de vos camarades. En prenant des notes pendant vos lectures (vocabulaire) et pendant chaque séance, vous serez mieux préparés pour commenter les résumés, fournir des renseignements supplémentaires et poser les bonnes questions critiques. Les excellentes notes de participation seront attribuées pour preuve d’études suivies des textes, pour preuve de découverte des auteurs et de leurs époques et, bien sûr, pour l’originalité personnelle dans la pensée et dans l’approche critique à toutes nos activités.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT
1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:
   a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one’s own in an examination or test);
   b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
   c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
   d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.
   While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.”
   Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student’s work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.
2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students’ examination papers.
3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.
