DESCRIPTION

This course will further the students' knowledge of Russian grammar and vocabulary as well as develop their listening, reading, speaking and writing skills by exposure to authentic cultural content including different kinds of real-world videos and written texts. The course's content and format meet the standards of the Common European Framework of Languages at the A2 level.

The course may not be repeated for credit.

Prerequisite: Russian 303 or consent of the Department.

OBJECTIVES

The course aims to develop students' sensitivity to Russian culture, their communicative skills and their ability to compose Russian texts of intermediate difficulty, expand their active vocabulary, and deepen their understanding of situational language use. Grammatically, the course will focus on building students' confidence in the use of the Russian cases and prepositions. All grammar pertaining to the Russian nominal system will be presented in a systematic way and practiced through communicative activities.

OUTCOMES

On completion of this course, students are expected to enhance their understanding of everyday spoken Russian, develop their ability to carry out more complex topical discussions and express themselves in writing on a broader range of topics, start speaking and writing in Russian with more confidence, achieve more precision when using Russian grammar, improve their sensitivity to different registers and their ability to interpret authentic spoken and written Russian texts of different genres, and better understand cultural information expressed in Russian.

DISTRIBUTION OF GRADES

Midterm tests (2) 20%
Vocabulary quizzes (4) 10%
Assignments 20%
Presentation 10%

COURSE NOTES

Please refer to D2L for on-going information, such as test schedules, vocabulary lists or homework assignments.

Regular class attendance is expected in a language course. Please inform the instructor of any reasons for prolonged absence. As part of active class participation, you are strongly encouraged to use Russian in class and make meaningful contributions to class discussions and activities.

In order to follow the pace and succeed in this course, it is of utmost importance to hand your homework on time.

Missed tests, quizzes and assignments will be given a grade of F unless you can show that the absence was for legitimate reasons. Tests, quizzes and dictations will start at the beginning of class and will not be repeated for latecomers. No aid is permitted at tests, quizzes, dictations and final exams.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:

- a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);
- b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
- c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
- d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted."

Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.

COPYRIGHT LEGISLATION

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (<https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf>) and requirements of the copyright act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html>) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PRIVACY (FOIP) ACT

Graded assignments will be retained by the Department for three months and subsequently sent for confidential shredding. Final examinations will be kept for one calendar year and subsequently sent for confidential shredding. Said material is exclusively available to the student and to the department staff requiring to examine it. Please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legalservices/foip> for complete information on the disclosure of personal records.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the University policies and procedures listed below. The student accommodation policy can be found at: <https://www.ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy>.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a Disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities (<https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/procedure-for-accommodations-for-students-with-disabilities.pdf>).

Students needing an Accommodation in relation to their coursework or to fulfil requirements for a graduate degree, based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to their Instructor or the Department Head/Dean or to the designated contact person in their Faculty.
